

Fertility and Teenagers and Young Adults with Cancer In-Person Study Day

Wednesday 7th June 2023

Aims: This study day will provide an in-depth overview of the impact on fertility for teenage and young adults (TYAs) with cancer, from point of diagnosis to living with and beyond cancer and the implications this has for TYA patients. As well as presentations from clinical experts within the field nationwide, there will be an interactive MDM case study presentation and patient panel for clinicians to gain an insight into the TYA experience.

Audience: This study day is aimed at medical, nursing and allied health care professionals who have an interest in care of teenage and young adult patients with cancer. No previous experience is necessary
