

Allied Health Professional (AHP) role profile

Outline

We are seeking to recruit a new Allied Health Professional (AHP) Representative to BNOS Council.

The AHP Representative will provide a strong voice for allied health professionals across the neuro-oncology community, ensuring their perspectives inform BNOS Council discussions, priorities and activities.

Key responsibilities

The role will involve engaging with the wider AHP membership to identify emerging issues and opportunities, promote multidisciplinary collaboration, develop education, encourage research, and forge communication.

As an active Council member, you will be expected to attend online Council meetings, held 3x yearly, the Annual General Meeting (AGM, in person at the annual conference), plus other meetings as required.

Skills/requirements

Previous experience in a similar role is not necessary, but the postholder should be an enthusiastic advocate for inclusive, high-quality neuro-oncology care and have the time available to contribute actively to Council meetings and agreed workstreams.

If the successful applicant is not already a BNOS member, they will be required to join the BNOS membership and maintain a current membership throughout their term of office.

Term of office

The initial appointment will be made until the Annual General Meeting (AGM) 2029, which will be held at the BNOS Conference in June/July that year. The role is renewable for a subsequent 3-year term in open competition with other applicants.

Elected by

Election to the post is carried out anonymously via the BNOS membership. If only one application is received, this will be reviewed by the Executive team and if deemed appropriate, the applicant will be directly appointed to the role.

How to apply

Please submit a one-page expression of interest explaining your motivation for applying and outlining:

- your current AHP role and experience relevant to neuro-oncology
- examples of multidisciplinary working, professional engagement, education, research or service improvement
